

Election law counsel you can count on.

Because election law varies by jurisdiction, one city, county, or state might play by an entirely different set of rules than its neighbor. Jaspan Schlesinger LLP's election and campaign finance law practice group has a sweeping knowledge of these rules. With offices in Garden City and Suffern, New York, our firm is particularly well versed in how election laws apply in different municipalities on and around Long Island.

It's that in-depth level of expertise that allows our clients to feel comfortable entrusting our election attorneys with issues pertaining to:

- Ballot access
- Redistricting
- Election law judicial proceedings
- Campaign finance law compliance on local, state, and national levels
- Contested elections, recounts, and appeals
- The Voting Rights Act and Help America Vote Act
- Propositions, initiatives, and referendums

High-Level Experience in High-Profile Election Law Cases

The election attorneys at Jaspan Schlesinger LLP have served as special election counsel for candidates in various local, state, and federal offices. In addition, we have been trusted advisers to many United States Senate and congressional candidates. But the breadth of our experience exceeds just individuals vying for a political seat. Government agencies have turned to our specialized election and campaign finance law attorneys to represent them in cases of all types.

Recognized for Our Knowledge and Know-How

The firm's managing partner and the practice group leader, Steven R. Schlesinger, is a renowned election law attorney with dozens of published decisions by federal and state trial and appellate courts. He is frequently sought out as a thought leader on the topic and is a contributing author to Goldfeder's Modern Election Law. He has personally handled some of the most significant election law cases in New York state.

Attorneys

Steven R. Schlesinger

Partner